Manager's moment...

Good morning everyone and welcome to market day!!

Finally, we're in the last week of winter and I can't wait for spring, happy to cope with hay fever any day over that bloody awful winter we just had, bring it on!!

Thank you to those of you who suggested items for discussion on our ABC 666 spot this morning – I'll try to fit them all in but it depends on how much time they allocate me.

I hope you enjoyed the first info session aimed at getting to know each other better; this week we have 60 seconds with:
Nynka Lucas – Assistant Market Manager

How long have you been attending the market?

Since 2012 when I started as a casual to provide backup relief to the Market Manager.

Why did you choose your career?

I work in an office during the week. I enjoy processes and being organised, but I also like being outside. My dream job would be to run an equine facility, but anything that enables me to keep my brain functioning and helps feed the horses is worthwhile.

Favourite food? Pancakes or maybe even Turkish pide? Um, no, definitely pancakes.

What or who are you most proud of?

I'm proud of my horses and that I finished my coaching certificate even when I didn't want to, but I am really most proud of people who are kind to others and get things done.

If you won the lottery, what would you do?

Buy some land to put it aside for wildlife and also set up an equine facility (with a straw bale house and a veggie garden!) Travel a little (Iceland, Sweden, Italy, Mongolia), then see what I could do to assist those causes close to my heart.

Who do you most admire?

Lyn White from Animals Australia and Greg Powell from The Kalandan Foundation immediately spring to mind, because they both make a difference for animals and kids, but anyone who stands up for others.

Favourite music? That would be an eclectic mix that does NOT include death metal. As an example, I love Soundgarden (rock) but I also love Diana Krall (jazz) and Philippe Jaroussky (counter tenor).

Bad habits? Hitting the snooze button more than once!

Any volunteers for next week?

Remember, I know where to find you!!!

Stallholder update: Missing in action this week is: Ian – Alpine Nuts and also here for their monthly visit we have: Coral - Junee Chocolate Factory. There is a small stallholder re-shuffle this week too, Bread Nerds are relocating to sites 1 & 2, River Road Nursery will be in sites 12 & 13 and Bombolini are moving down to site 3.

EFT Payments...

Just a quick reminder that your EFT payment should be received into our bank by COB on the Thursday prior to market day; I know you're all busy people but payment is important – we don't enjoy chasing you for money. If you forget/pay late, please email/text me a copy of the remittance, then I can mark you down as paid, thank you for your assistance ☺

Are your details current?

Your CRFM webpage is the window to your business here at the market; it's crucial for you to advise me of any change/s to your details. Have you upgraded or added product? Taken new and more up to date photos? Email your text/photos and I'll make the changes for you; photos should not exceed 1MB in size please. Award winners, you should add your medal logo to your website. Please take the time to check and verify the information displayed on your page and in particular your email address and phone numbers. You wouldn't want to miss out on opportunities because your information is out of date; Keep it current and fresh!

Emergency Evacuation...

You will see these signs up around the shed both inside and on the outside entry point. In the event of having to evacuate the site during a market the nominated assembly area for everyone is: ACTON ARENA, this is the grass area between us and the German Shepard clubhouse (stallholder Xmas party venue). If you are not familiar with where that is, please ask me so I can explain.
